This one-of-a-kind custom crafted estate was designed for a casual-luxury lifestyle, with immense attention to architectural detail throughout. Constructed in 2002 for a local Aruban entrepreneur with deep family roots and history on the island, famed local architect Orlando Hovertsz struck a beautiful balance of form, function, and elegant architectural panache. Built on 1,900 square-meter of property land, the architect utilized the right angles of the property by positioning the main living space at the crux, flanked by a wing of 4 bedrooms, including the master suite on one side, and a separate oversized three-vehicle garage and two-bedroom guest house on the opposite side. A guest villa can be found adjacent to the pool. Fluidity of space Fluidity is a key pillar to the estate's design, with expansive natural light-filled spaces and seamless transitions from inside living to outdoor relaxation spaces, allowing for complete enjoyment of the island lifestyle. Creamy, neutral porcelain tiles, high ceilings, and walls of oversized windows and doors set the tone for an inspirin
